QUESTION 5

The extract below, written in 1962, is from an article written by Julius Nyerere in which he defends his policies in Tanzania.

"Ujamaa", then, or "familyhood", describes our socialism. It is opposed to capitalism, which seeks to build a happy society on the basis of the exploitation of man by man ...

It was in the struggle to break the grip of colonialism that we learnt the need for unity. We came to recognise that the same socialist attitude of mind which, in the tribal days, gave to every individual the security that comes of belonging to a widely extended family, must be preserved within the still wider society of the nation. But we should not stop there. Our recognition of the family to which we all belong must be extended yet further – beyond the tribe, the community, the nation, or even the continent – to embrace the whole society of mankind ...

Explain the impact of Julius Nyerere's policies on Tanzania by answering the following questions:

(a) What social and economic challenges did Julius Nyerere face in Tanzania in the period after independence?

(b) How did Julius Nyerere attempt to solve the social and economic challenges facing Tanzania in the period after independence?

(c) How successful was Julius Nyerere in overcoming the social and economic challenges facing Tanzania in the period after independence?
